BRITISH CAPTURE PAROLE JUMPERS; YACHT IS SUNK

Officers of Teuton Commerce Raiders Picked Up on the Atlantic By Warship

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 29.—The six German naval officers who broke their parole at Norfolk, Va., where the commerce raiders Prinz Eitel Friedrich and Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm had been interned, have been captured, according to military authorities received here, by a British warship. Where they were captured is not revealed.

The information bears out previous reports that the six Germans escaped in the yacht Eclipse at Pensacola, for it says that the men were taken from the Eclipse. The yacht was found at sea by the warship during a search for the craft under orders.

The letter says the yacht was sunk, but makes no mention of any fighting. It is presumed, therefore, that the Germans surrendered upon being overtaken. It is rumored that the British warship was the Melbourne.

LUNCH FEATURE OF 'EATS' SALE

As a feature of the delicatessen sale at Sachs' old store, Port and Beretania streets, tomorrow by the women of the Sacred Heart church, Panahou, a special luncheon will be served at 25 cents. This should prove attractive to shoppers downtown at the lunch hour.

The sale is for the benefit of the new Panahou church. It will begin at 10 tomorrow morning and continue until the big supply of "good eats" and candies is exhausted. The committee in charge reported today that Honolulu housewives have been unusually generous in their contributions of specially-prepared food and that the offerings will be of the choicest.

DARING GIRLS FIGHT BURGLAR; DRIVE HIM TO JUMP FROM WINDOW

Awakening to find a burglar in their room early one morning several weeks ago, Miss Edna L. Reeves of Ukiah, California, and Miss Laura R. Hampton of Honolulu, two graduate students of the University of California, put up a 15-minute fight that finally ended in the burglar taking flight, making his exit through a kitchen window and jumping to the roof of an adjoining house. The Spokesman-Review of Spokane, Washington, prints the story.

"Miss Reeves saw the burglar in the dim light crawling on all fours toward the door. She jumped from the bed," says the Review, "and landed on his back. She asked Miss Hampton to guard the doors and windows and prevent his escape, and then gave her undivided attention to the burglar. They fought from the bedroom, through a glass door to a sitting room, into the dining room, and it was through a kitchen window that the burglar got away. Miss Reeves was considerably bruised, but was able to attend classes later in the day."

CARTER TELLS OF GOOD HEALTH OF CATTLE ON RANCHES OF ISLANDS

During a recent visit to a cattle show in Kansas City, Mo., Alfred W. Carter of Honolulu remarked to a representative of the Kansas City Star that cattle thrive in the Hawaiian Islands, and that such ailments as the "foot and mouth" disease, are unknown here.

"We have never had this disease in the islands," Mr. Carter is quoted as saying, "and we do not care to take a chance."

He then went on to explain that he had intended to show some of the Parker ranch cattle at the San Francisco exposition, but was prevented from so doing by the "foot and mouth" scare.

86 STOWAWAYS REACH FRISCO ON MONGOLIA

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 29.—The liner Mongolia, which arrived here yesterday direct from the Orient, completing her last trip under the Pacific Mail flag, brought to this port a record number of stowaways. So far the immigration and port officials have taken 86 Chinese off the liner who had concealed themselves in various places on the ship and who were endeavoring to enter the country.

FUNSTON READY TO REPEL ATTACK ON DOUGLAS; ENFORCE NEUTRALITY

Carranza Troops are Rushed Through Texas to Assistance of Beleaguered City

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 29.—The neutrality of the United States will be enforced with arms if necessary at Douglas, Arizona, where an attack is threatened by Gen. Villa, who is moving on the garrison of Agua Prieta, the Mexican town just across the border.

Major Gen. Frederick Funston, commander of the border forces, has wired the commander at Douglas to be prepared to "enforce American neutrality."

According to advices from Douglas, Gen. Calles, the Carranza commander at Agua Prieta, has built a strong line of defenses on the south edge of the town to prevent a flank attack. It is

BACTERIA WILL BE SUBJECT OF FIVE LECTURES

Prof. Vaughan MacCaughy to Give Series at Library of Hawaii

The following interesting announcement is made by the College of Hawaii: COLLEGE OF HAWAII—SATURDAY MORNING LECTURES.

BACTERIA AND HUMAN WELFARE. By Vaughan MacCaughy, (Professor of Botany, College of Hawaii.)

A series of five public lectures and demonstrations given on Saturday mornings at the Library of Hawaii. November 6, 13, 20; December 4, 11, 18th, 9 o'clock.

Synopsis of the Course.

I. "Bacteria: What they are and how they work." November 6. Discovery of bacteria; definition; relatives; kinds, sizes and shapes; homes; multiplication.

II. "The kinds of Bacteria: Useful and Harmful." November 13. Bacteria in the arts and industries; soil bacteria; bacteria affecting sugar cane, pineapples, taro, etc.; bacterial diseases of animals; bacterial diseases of man; bacteria and modern surgery; the classification of bacteria.

III. "Bacteria" and the Schools. November 20. Sanitation of the school building; school air, water, sunlight, dust; physical condition of the school child—skin, teeth, nails, clothing; bacterial diseases of children; medical inspection in the schools.

IV. "Bacterial Problems of Honolulu and Hawaii." December 4. The water supply; clean milk; disposal of sewage; insects and transmissible diseases; tuberculosis; municipal housecleaning.

V. "Demonstrations and Laboratory Exercises." (At the bacteriological laboratory of the College of Hawaii.) December 11. Practical methods of disinfection and sterilization; how bacteria are isolated and grown on cultures; how bacteria are studied with the microscope; examination of various kinds of bacteria.

The series is free and open to the public. It is designed primarily for teachers in the schools, but is open to all who are interested in the subjects announced.

The lectures are illustrated with wall charts, diagrams, microscope mounts, laboratory apparatus, photographs and other illustrative material.

Opportunity will be afforded those who are interested to participate in a personally conducted visit to the bacteriological laboratory of the Territorial Board of Health.

CALIFORNIA TURNS DOWN PROGRESSIVE MEASURES

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 29.—Practically complete returns on the state referendum of Tuesday on proposed constitutional amendments show that the initiative and referendum and rural credits have been defeated.

The proposition stipulating that judges of the higher courts shall retain office until their successors qualify appears to have carried. This is the only one of the dozen or more proposed amendments that has been endorsed.

CONVENTIONALISTS CLAIM CARRANZA PROTECTION

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, Oct. 29.—Many Conventionalists are surrendering daily to the commanders of Gen. Carranza in the field, according to a report given out here yesterday, and they are receiving amnesty as promised by the First Chief in an interview after his recognition by the United States. Service on the Vera Cruz, Mexico City railroad, has been resumed.

Urbana, N. Y., is growing rapidly, and blames it on the Curdes across plane factory, which has been booming since the war broke out.

RUSSIA WANTS HUNDRED MILLION LOAN FROM U. S.

Rumors on Wall Street Say Slav Agents Already Busy on Negotiations

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 29.—It was reliably reported in Wall Street yesterday that Russian agents are busy negotiating for a loan to their government of a sum between $50,000,000 and $100,000,000. Some reports place the amount above $100,000,000.

Unlike the $500,000,000 loan negotiated here recently by a commission of Anglo-French financiers, the Russian government would not put up bonds as collateral, according to the Wall Street gossip. The Russian government is willing to pay interest, and it is said that it is willing to pay as high as nine per cent.

FIELD FOR SUGAR MACHINERY MEN IN PHILIPPINES

Market Limited Only By Financial Condition of Planters, and Will Grow

The Philippine islands promise to offer an exceedingly good field for the sale of sugar-making machinery during the next few years. The industry is forging ahead by leaps and bounds, and the interest of agriculturists in every part of the islands where the soil and other conditions are favorable to the growing of sugar is being turned to it.

The creation by the last legislature of a sugar-central board to establish controls backed by the government has insured not only the investment of funds already appropriated by the government for that purpose, but gives promise of future investments of the same kind by the government.

There are very few up-to-date sugar mills in the country at present, but the few that are already established have opened the eyes of the growers to the great advantages to be derived from modern machinery. Most of the mills already installed are of American manufacture, but European manufacturers are now in the field and are offering terms to the planters which are generally regarded as favorable.

The quantity of sugar machinery that might be sold in the islands is limited only by the funds of the planters. If it were possible for machinery sellers to make the terms of payment on a basis that would allow the planters to pay for the centrals out of the product of their fields, taking the fields themselves as security and retaining the ownership of the machinery until it is paid for, the market for machinery here might be developed almost without limit, for the area of good sugar land still open to the introduction of modern machinery has been little more than touched. At the present moment the great need of the sugar industry in the islands is capital; with that the industry and the consequent market for machinery could and would be expanded many fold.

MAYOR EAGER TO GUARD AGAINST 'TOTING' OF GUNS

Mayor Lane is said to have under consideration a plan for the prevention of the indiscriminate sale of firearms, similar to the plan followed on the mainland. The mayor has asked the city attorney's office to ascertain whether or not it is possible to enact an ordinance requiring persons purchasing firearms to obtain permission from the sheriff or city clerk.

At present buyers of firearms are required merely to register their names with the merchant from whom they purchase, and it is believed that in many cases no such registrations are ever made, as the merchant is not required to report the names of such purchasers, but merely the number of weapons he has sold.

[Special Cable to Hawaii Ship] TOKIO, Japan, Oct. 29.—Another baronetcy is to be created in commemoration of the Emperor's coronation. C. Hozumi, who is one of the foremost lawyers of the country, will be given the title. He has been a professor of constitutional law at the Imperial University for many years.

About two million natives of Siam are engaged in the cultivation of rice, but the large increase in the production of American rice is having the effect of reducing the Siam crop.

WILSON TO RECEIVE SUFFRAGE PETITION

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 29.—The motion picture drawn up by the women suffrage leaders and kept for signature in the woman's suffrage headquarters at the San Francisco exposition, which contains more names than any petition ever yet addressed to the president and congress, will be formally received by the president on December 6, when he will receive the delegates from the Women Voters' Convention, elected by the convention held in San Francisco to accompany the petition to the capital. The petition urges congress to enact a constitutional amendment for submission to the various states providing for equal suffrage throughout the Union.

FEDERAL COURT ORDER DISSEVER RAILROADS

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 29.—The department of justice is now conducting a series of prosecutions and investigations under the terms of the anti-trust legislation. In the federal court at Philadelphia yesterday a court decree was issued declaring that the ownership by the New Jersey Central Railroad of the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal Company constitutes a combination in restraint of trade. The decree ordered a separation of the joint control.

STORM CENTER OF TROUBLE HAS SHIFTED FROM COAST TO CHINA

If America and Japan Fight It Will Be Over Trade Rivalry, Says Japan Advertiser

With the special avowed purpose of celebrating the opening of the Panama canal, the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, and of promoting better relations between the United States and Japan, the Japan Advertiser of Tokyo issued on October 3 a special 48-page Panama-Pacific edition.

Issued with a view of aiding in the promulgation of a stronger feeling of friendship between America and Japan, which is the catchword of the edition, which is splendidly edited and profusely illustrated.

One special feature is a series of interviews with, or letters from, leaders in all lines of life in both countries, specially prepared comments on the huge undertaking of the paper, and commendation of the motive which prompted issuing the edition.

On the first page, against a colored background made up of Japanese lanterns bearing the flags of Japan and the United States, appear photographs of the Japanese Emperor and of President Wilson.

Wilson's Message. Over a reproduction of Wilson's signature appears the following: "I am very much interested to learn of your plan for a special edition of the Japan Advertiser in connection with the opening of the great exposition at San Francisco and am glad to avail myself of the opportunity of conveying through you to the people and government of Japan an expression of the deep and sincere pleasure it gives me that the Japanese and American people are to be brought into friendly contact in the generous rivalry of skill and national genius in that exposition. I hope that the fair will demonstrate in a very delightful way the friendship of the two peoples and afford a striking opportunity to display their true economic relations to one another."

From Japan's Premier. Count Okuma, Japan's premier, has the following message: "The issue of a Panama-Pacific Exposition number of the Japan Advertiser presents an opportunity for me to express to the public of the United States and Japan the great interest which Japan takes in the Panama canal; its importance to the commercial welfare of Japan and the possibilities it holds in the development of the trade between the United States and the Orient, especially Japan. It is a pleasure for me to say that Japan is in most friendly relationship with America, economically as well as socially. The affairs of a few Japanese immigrants in the Pacific coast states are very small matters compared with our satisfactory relations."

Messages from Roosevelt, former vice-president Fairbanks and other noted Americans are round side by side with interviews with Japan's cabinet members. One interesting section, conspicuously illustrated, is devoted to Japan's arts. Another shows many views of the Panama canal, and carries interviews and articles on the influence of the canal on the trade of the Orient. One-half page, filled with an advertisement of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, is of especial interest in Honolulu, in that it carries diagonally across its face, printed in red letters, the following statement: "CANCELED."

"Owing to the passage of the United States seaman's bill the Pacific Mail has been forced to go out of business; therefore this advertisement is now canceled."

A special editorial contains the following suggestive paragraphs: "Every intelligent citizen of Japan and the United States has been conscious for some years past of a change in the relations of the two countries. The old cordiality has given place to a feeling of doubtfulness. American public opinion, perhaps the most articulate in the world, is divided into two camps. One maintains the tradition of generous friendship and passionate admiration."

"But there is another school which if not hostile is keenly critical, and which scrutinizes Japan's policy, as the policy of an ambitious and powerful neighbor will always be scrutinized. You get another side of the same situation in the fact that while trade has improved and personal connections have always been cordial, diplomatic relations have shown a tendency to gravitate from cordiality to 'correctness.' The question which lovers of each country, lovers of both countries, lovers of peace and civilization have to ask themselves is whether this uncertainty of feeling, this suspense of cordiality, has its origin in a real conflict of those vital interests which, upon due provocation, nations will go to war, or whether it is merely the temporary uncertainty of passing and adjustable misunderstandings. Might involve Conflict."

"With a perfectly correct instinct Americans have usually viewed the immigration question as the most probable cause of trouble between the countries. That problem might easily involve, as we said, a conflict between the two rights. But the war that has presented itself to American imaginations has always been a defensive war, and indeed the facts of the situation and its history show that aggression in this matter could not come from America. As for Japan, it is sufficient to point out that the question is not worth the bones of a Japanese

WATERFRONT FIRE DESTROYS PIER AND MUNITIONS

Seattle Dock is Scene of Hot Conflagration; Russian War Stores Go Up in Smoke

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 29.—A pier occupied by the Blue Funnel Steamship Company, a British line, was destroyed by fire last night and big stores of munitions awaiting shipment to Russia were destroyed. The loss has been estimated at $200,000. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin. There have been two other fires on the waterfront in the last few weeks, each in the vicinity of stored war munition.

It is hinted that the same firebug or arson ring is responsible for all three of the fires and that the fires may be the result of a plot aimed at the Allies.

6500 U. S. SOLDIERS ON GUARD AT CITY

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] DOUGLAS, Ariz., Oct. 29.—The threatened attack by Gen. Villa on Agua Prieta is expected to begin tomorrow night or early Sunday morning. By that time it is expected 6500 American soldiers will be in and near Douglas.

With 6500 troops on the ground, commanding officers say Douglas residents have no need to fear capture of the town or an attack by Villa. Neither will the neutrality of the United States suffer, they say. Major Gen. Funston's orders to enforce American neutrality have been received and they will be carried out to the letter.

NFGRO TRUSTY FACES CHARGE OF MURDER

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] JOLIET, Illinois, Oct. 29.—Joseph Campbell, the negro trusty in the state penitentiary here, who is accused of having murdered the wife of William Allen, was placed on trial yesterday.

Campbell is accused of having attacked the woman's wife in her quarters and then killing her by poisoning in her hand with a jug and setting fire to the room.

RAILROAD WAREHOUSES DESTROYED AT BALTIMORE

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 29.—The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad bonded warehouse here was destroyed by fire yesterday. The contents were estimated in value at $400,000 and the building and piers at $50,000. Crowsed wires are said to have caused the fire.

CHIEF JUSTICE WHITE'S TONGUE GETS TANGLED UPON GERMAN WORDS.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The title of the German steamship line, Hamburg-Amerikanische Packet-Fahrt-Gesellschaft, will go down in history as too large a mouthful of German for Chief Justice White to pronounce. A Sherman anti-trust suit against this and other steamship companies was to have been argued in the supreme court. When the Chief Justice was calling the cases for argument at the opening of court, he scarcely had gotten over the first hyphen before he began to stumble and slur in his pronunciation. He finished poorly; profiting by his experience, the second time he had to read the name of the company, he substituted a hand "etc." for most of the words.
